

COMPROMISE REACHED IN DROUGHT RELIEF IMPASSE

LIGHT SNOW AND
RAINS REPORTED
THROUGH MIDWEST

Southern Illinois Got A Heavy Rain Which Was Needed

Chicago, Feb. 7.—(UP)—Light snows and rains fell today in many sections of the country, with heavier precipitation in a few scattered areas bringing relief from the serious winter drought conditions.

Precipitation, varying in degree from showers, drizzles and snow flurries in most sections to downpours in the scattered few, were general yesterday throughout middlewestern states which suffered most from the droughts of last year and this winter.

The heaviest rains of the day were reported last night in southern Illinois, where it was most needed as the water famine has become acute.

Light snow was followed by rain in Chicago, but the total precipitation was scarcely more than a trace. In some sections of the Rocky Mountain area and in parts of North Dakota, Minnesota, Montana, Wisconsin and Michigan snowfalls were reported, but in no section was there any prospect of what ordinarily would be considered a typical February storm.

Today's Forecast
Forecasts today were for more rain in the midwest; probable rain on the west coast; possible showers in the southwest; fair and colder weather in the Rockies; warmer and possibly showers along the Atlantic coast; and possibly rain in the south.

Although the rain was moderately heavy throughout southern Illinois last night and amounted to downpours in a few counties, it was agreed generally that not enough water fell to reduce materially the danger from a water famine. Days of rain are needed there, according to reports, to put the ground, streams, reservoirs and wells in anything like normal winter condition.

Conditions in southern Illinois, Kentucky and parts of Indiana and Ohio have become so serious it has been necessary to ship water into many towns and others are facing water famines within the next two weeks unless the rains continue.

Temperatures yesterday were above freezing except along the northern border of the country.

Representative maximums for the various sections were: New York, 44; Washington, 52; Cincinnati, 54; Chicago, 36; Indianapolis, 50; Detroit, 30; Sault Ste. Marie, 10; Des Moines, 36; Bismark, 32; Kansas City, 60; Denver, 58; Portland, 48; Los Angeles, 70; Oklahoma City, 72; Fort Worth, 68; and Miami, 74.

SEWER GAS IN FRONT THEATER

Caused Panic And Injured
31 Persons In Los Angeles

By RONALD W. WAGONER,
United Press Staff Correspondent.

Los Angeles, Feb. 7.—(UP)—An underground explosion in front of Orpheum Theatre last night injured 31 persons, two seriously, in a crowd straining police lines at the Los Angeles showing of a talking picture starring Richard Dix.

The film "Cimarron" had just been completed and Fred Niblo, Hollywood director, was introducing members of the cast from the stage when the theatre and nearby building were rocked.

The explosion was believed by authorities to have been caused by ignition of sewer gas caused by faulty electric wiring.

A huge section of pavement shot into the air, lifting a taxicab with it and throwing men, women and children to the street.

Two men, William Urquhart, 28, and Dave Freedman, 21, suffered concussions of the brain.

Arthur Camp, chauffeur for Pearl Eaton, dance director at the R-K-O studios, suffered cuts and bruises.

George Delk, 28, driver of the demolished taxicab, miraculously escaped death. He was found to be only cut and bruised when police pulled him from the wreckage.

Blast Created Panic
The blast created a panic among the hundreds of spectators outside the Orpheum, and a near panic among those inside the theatre.

Police and firemen immediately reestablished barricades and cleared the entrance to the showhouse.

Fire broke out underground and columns of smoke billowed out of the ragged hole in the pavement.

Most of the injured were standing in the foyer of the theatre or in the street waiting to view the film stars as they left the show.

Only the fact that the Orpheum revived a rapidly disappearing custom of introducing stars after a premiere saved celebrities from injury.

FIRE HOLDS UP
CONGRESS FOR A WHILE TODAY

House Members Watch
Blaze: Durant's
Home Burned

Washington, Feb. 7.—(AP)—A fire threatened destruction of a warehouse today in the northeast section two blocks from the Capitol.

Engines racing by attracted the attention of many Representatives after the House had been in session a little more than an hour.

Three alarms were sounded, bringing practically half the city's fire apparatus to the scene. Numerous House members gathered in the Speaker's lobby to watch the fire fighters.

FIGHT FOREST FIRE

Marion, N. C., Feb. 7.—(UP)—Scores of volunteer fire fighters today sought to check a forest fire that already had swept over thousands of acres of the Blue Ridge Mountain country.

Many homes in the section were reported destroyed. Residents of the section fled before the conflagration, as it raced through valuable timberland.

Forest rangers reported the volunteers were having but little success in fighting the fire and that a heavy rain was the only hope of preventing other thousands of acres from being burned over.

SCHOOL SET AFIRE

Chicago, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Curious statements, written on the blackboards of three classrooms by men who set fire to the Libby elementary school were under scrutiny of puzzled officials today.

"Nine months out of work—nine months too much," read one.

"We are sorry to do this; it seems so cheap. But no work—no pay," ran another.

Authorities are trying to justify the $5,000 damage done by the fire in view of the statements.

PALATIAL HOME BURNS

Roscommon, Mich., Feb. 7.—(UP)—Fire today destroyed the palatial summer home, eight miles northeast of here of R. C. (Cliff) Durant, millionaire sportsman. Loss to the house and its furnishings was placed at $500,000.

The flames did not spread to the $45,000 garage, the caretaker's lodge or the airplane hangar in which several planes were stored. Durant is at this winter home in Beverly Hills, Calif.

The house completed last fall after two years work, was on Durant's 15,000 acre estate on the Au Sable river. It contained approximately 50 rooms, and was presumed to be fireproof.

William Jensen, the caretaker, discovered the fire. He called for aid from Roscommon but the lone fire truck here was disabled en route to the estate.

A jury which convicted them last night asked mercy for Boyle who confessed.

They were indicted Dec. 2. The trunk was shipped from San Francisco to Spokane, where it was delivered Nov. 22.

The trunk bomb aroused the suspicion of Spokane newspapermen and Cleveland Williams, Associated Press correspondent, tore out the wiring. Boyle testified the had fixed the charge before shipment so it would not explode.

TAKEN FOR "RIDE"

Chicago, Feb. 7.—(UP)—The finding of Joe Tonzillo's body at dawn today with a bullet through his head and his hands tied behind him led police to believe gangsters had taken him for a "ride" then tossed his body into his own back yard. Tonzillo was 34 and was said to be a liquor runner.

TEN CRIMINALLY INSANE MEN GAIN
LIBERTY DURING MINOR FIRE LAST NIGHT IN TENNESSEE'S HOSPITAL

Nashville, Tenn., Feb. 7.—(UP)—Ten criminally insane men were at large today after having escaped the Central State hospital here last night during a fire.

At least three of the men were considered "killers," hospital authorities said. Police and hospital guards began an organized search of the city and vicinity for the men.

Hospital guards and officials marched the 600 occupants of the burning main ward to safety in the burning yard. Firemen soon extinguished the blaze, believed to have been caused by a short circuit in the lighting system. Damage was estimated at $25,000.

Every available Nashville policeman was called to aid guards in forming a picket line about the inmates.

During the confusion 10 of the men slipped through the lines, but most of them stood huddled together quietly.

One of the most dangerous of the escaped inmates was Arnold S. Riggio, 24, New York, who was said to have shown an obsession of hate since he was convicted of holding up a drug store.

Another of the men has attacked attendants and three others were said to have shown murderous tendencies while in the asylum. The others were believed harmless.

During the excitement of removing the inmates to safety, Marlan C. Smith, an inmate, struck and seriously injured a guard with a cane. There were several minor clashes between guards and inmates.

YARRICK MOORE,
POPULAR DIXON
NEGRO, IS DEAD

Had Been An Industrious,
Thrifty Citizen
For 75 Years

Yarrick Moore, well-known Dixon Negro who had lived here for three-quarters of a century, during which time he established a reputation for industry and thrift, died at his home, 520 Nachusa avenue, at 11:45 o'clock Friday night, death being the result of infirmities of his age, which had incapacitated him for the past eight years. Funeral services will be held at the home Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. W. W. Marshall officiating and with burial in Oakwood.

Mr. Moore was born in Tennessee, Dec. 25, 1852, coming to Dixon with his father, the late John Moore, when he was four years old. The rest of his life was spent here. In his youth he was coachman for the late Joseph Utley, grandfather of the late H. U. Bardwell; and later, while yet in his twenties he entered the employ of the Grand Detour Plow Co., being the only colored man to be employed in every department in the history of that concern.

Following his service in the plow shops he became engineer at the Nachusa Tavern, which position he held for 35 years, working under five landlors, the last of whom, M. E. Rice, continued to pay him a partial salary for two years after he was unable to work longer. Had Mr. Rice remained here these payments would have continued. He was forced to give up his labors eight years ago and remained at home all of the time until his death.

He is survived by his widow and several nephews and nieces. Mr. Moore was one of Dixon's best colored citizens throughout his long life here and he possessed many friends who will mourn his death.

Litsinger, who charged in a statement issued soon after the swindle, that Mrs. Blackledge had been a party to the "theft" of his money has not filed any complaint against her.

CLAIMS CAPONE
INSTIGATOR OF
THAT FARO GAME

Chicago Paper Prints
"Inside" Story Of
Capital Game

Chicago, Feb. 7.—(UP)—Information that "Scarface Al" Capone was back of the recent swindle in which Mrs. Myrtle Tanner Blackledge lost $50,000 at faro, has been obtained by the Chicago Daily News, according to a story yesterday in that newspaper.

Mrs. Blackledge, who then was collector of Internal Revenue, lost the money in a game at Springfield. She had borrowed it from Edward Litsinger, Cook county political leader. After the scandal that followed announcement of the swindle, she resigned.

The card game, the News stated it had learned, was arranged originally in the hope of obtaining much more than the $50,000. The plan was, according to the newspaper, to get her so involved in gambling she would be forced to "borrow" from the funds her position gave her control of.

This, according to the News, was expected to place her in a position where Capone could demand "consideration" in the matter of an investigation of his income tax.

The original plot worked well, according to the News, until after Mrs. Blackledge had played her first game with three swindlers, two of whom posed as her friends.

The plot failed, however, according to the News, when Mrs. Blackledge really borrowed $50,000 from Litsinger—instead of "borrowing" it from her government funds—to make good a check which she had put into the first game.

Illinois House To Pass Repeal Bill
Springfield, Ill., Feb. 7.—(AP)—Belief that the roll call in the House of Representatives next Tuesday morning will mean the passage of the O'Grady bill to repeal the Illinois prohibition act, was quite general here today, with doubt remaining only as to the size of the "wet" margin.

Even the "dry" stronghold, Roger Little of Champaign, Homer Tice of Greenville, H. D. Sparks of Shelbyville, Clinton Searle of Rock Island, Frederick W. Rennick of Buda, Ralph E. Church of Evanston and Gordon Childers of Normal, all Republicans who not only vote "dry" but jump into the fray and fight that way, could see nothing ahead for the "drys" but honorable defeat.

THIEF BROUGHT BACK BY CHIEF

Two Companions Of Jas.
Barry Will Also Be Brought To Bar

Chief of Police J. D. Van Bibber returned home last evening from Melrose Park with James Barry, aged 18, of Chicago and the stolen Buick coach belonging to S. C. Timothy, manager of the Bear Cat store on Peoria Avenue. This morning State Officer Ken Church and Patrolman John Bohnstedt went to Chicago to bring Richard Kelly of that city back to Dixon. A third youth, Peter Jaquiski, 18, of Chicago was expected to be arrested today and turned over to the Dixon police. All three were wanted in connection with the theft of the Timothy car.

Barry and his two companions, were arrested early yesterday morning at Melrose Park on a speeding charge. When taken to the police station, it was learned that the car they were driving had been stolen in Dixon and Chief Van Bibber was notified. He and the owner went to Melrose Park yesterday afternoon and brought both the driver and the car back to Dixon. Barry waived preliminary hearing on a charge of larceny when arraigned before Judge M. J. Gannon and was held to the grand jury under bond of $2,500, which he was unable to furnish and was taken to the county jail.

Reilly, a cousin of Barry's, and Jaquiski were not held by the Melrose Park police when the car was stopped for speeding through the Chicago suburb early yesterday. When it developed that the machine had been stolen, a search was instituted for the other two and Reilly was taken in custody last night and Chicago police expected to locate the third youth today.

Barry is said to have confessed having stolen the car. He is also said to have been released from the Bridewell in Chicago about Christmas after serving a sentence for a similar offense and it is reported that this is the third time he has been apprehended for taking cars. Barry and his two companions left Chicago Tuesday, going to Ottawa to visit a friend and returned home by way of Dixon. Arriving here Thursday evening, they spent some time about town and then decided to take a car and return to Chicago, it was reported. Barry is also said to have succeeded in forcing the lock on his cell at the Melrose Park police station yesterday in an attempt to escape before the Dixon chief arrived and took him in custody.

A BALTIC WOMAN'S LAY

(Translated for The Christian Science Monitor)

DAWN chill and frosty. A star in the west
Beams on white, rigid trees,
And sinks into rest.

The mists on the roofs shroud
In mystery deep
The ice-frosted morn as it stirs from its sleep.

Low whispering winds sigh through daylight and dream,
And through hoar-frost wrapped trees with diamond-like gleam.

And I laugh and sing while darkness is fleeting,
For this is my homeland; and this its greeting.

Where far in the east the haze begins burning,
While in the far west the starlight is turning.

Where the foxes bark rings through fathomless snow,
And on hard-frozen lakes the elks come and go.

Where the warm breath streams;
and the snow bird stays long—
There is my homeland!... Thus runs her song.

View of the front of the Auditorium of the Christian church, showing organ console, choir, pulpit, and organ-loft above and behind pulpit.

Next Monday evening a "Victory Concert" will be presented at the Dixon Christian church, in celebration of the liquidation of the debt on the pipe organ, which was installed two years ago. The two ladies' organizations of the church, that undertook the enterprise, reckoned on three years for the financing, but have been so diligent and successful that a little less than two years sees the cost met in full.

The organ is the workmanship of Hubert A. Howell of Dixon, his first product and has given excellent satisfaction.

In co-operation with the choir, the Ladies Aid Society and C. C. Circle, have arranged the concert, which will be free to all, with an offering for the Organ Maintenance Fund. In recognition of the loyal support of the choir and the church as a whole, the program contains talent entirely selected from the church. Prince of Wales Likes American Panama City, Feb. 7.—(AP)—A pretty dark-haired brown-eyed American girl captured the fancy of the Prince of Wales, who danced with her most of last evening.

She is Miss Eleanor Nichols of Newport, daughter of Commander the Balboa naval radio station. She Newton Lord Nichols, in charge of spent most of the evening in the arms of the Prince of Wales.

He bent low above her and sang a popular song played by the orchestra, "Without You," into her ear as they danced.

The Prince of Wales selected Miss Nichols almost as soon as he arrived at the club. Prince George, the younger brother, was especially attentive to Miss Cecilia Alfaro, pretty niece of the President. Shortly after 1 o'clock both had to leave and go aboard the Oropesa which took them on toward Peru, the next stop in their South American tour.

MOB "JUSTICE."

People who do not think are always dangerous. And mobs seldom have any sagacious thoughts chasing themselves around their heads. They are willing to play follow-the-leader and the more exciting the game he suggests the more eagerly they crack the whip or go in for tag. The very fact that a large number of other people are in on the plot, whatever it is, seems to relieve each member of the group of any personal responsibility.

A recent example was at Schafer, N. D., where a mob broke into the jail and took charge of a man who had confessed that he had killed a family of six people. Certainly no one would plead any leniency for Charles Bannan. But the law was looking after him in a perfectly orderly, trustworthy way. He was going to be given the punishment he deserved.

But a mob got busy. Not one of the men could claim that he was merely out to do his duty for there was no need of that. The queer, half-savage spirit that comes to the front when mobs gather wanted a play . . . one with bloodshed and horrors, the kind that go best at night. Here was an excuse for one.

So they took the prisoner, put a noose around his neck, fastened the other end of the rope to the bridge railing, and pushed him off. There was a queer strangled sound in his throat, then silence. A dark silence with a wind stirring along Cherry Creek, and men hanging their heads a little sheepishly because of what they had done.

For such an act always demoralizes a community. It lowers the standards of those who take part. They can never be the men that they were before. Not after having given vent to a bestial notion.

No one would criticize the group for its reaction to the murderer. He probably received the medicine he deserved. But when we have duly constituted agencies which will dispense justice in approved doses it is too bad that others interfere.

NATIONS AND HUMANS.

When Johnnie Jones speaks ill of Willie Smith, the back alley is usually the scene of the next act. Fistic battles have always been popular. In fact, small boys have a habit of objecting to a verbal apology. It spoils the show.

When one government makes a remark that isn't acceptable to another the same thing is likely to happen, with the high seas as the stage. Time was when one nation would have put cotton in its ears and shouldered its guns if another one wanted to apologize for some chance remark. But fortunately that is ending. Now that the art of courtesy is being practiced the art of war isn't so powerful.

The United States has made a formal apology to Italy for statements uttered by Major General Smedley D. Butler regarding Premier Mussolini. Mussolini, being very human, objected to some remarks of the United States marine corps officer. The United States, having a sense of justice and fitness which demanded that it do the chivalrous thing, sent deep regrets.

It never reflects on a nation, any more than it does on a man, to do the right thing. A noble gesture is never lost. Italy and America will be better friends, in all probability, because the United States government wasn't afraid to make atonement for the carelessness of one of its representatives.

It is true that this is the first instance, so far as the State Department has been able to ascertain, where it has been necessary for us to apologize to another nation for statements made by a ranking officer.

It is unfortunate that the condition arose which made such an action necessary. But it is no blot on our escutcheon that we made atonement for it. Only a small personality or nation will refuse to be gracious and admit its error.

President Gates recently made some drastic football changes at the University of Pennsylvania. He is said to have taken Penn in hand with considerable effect.

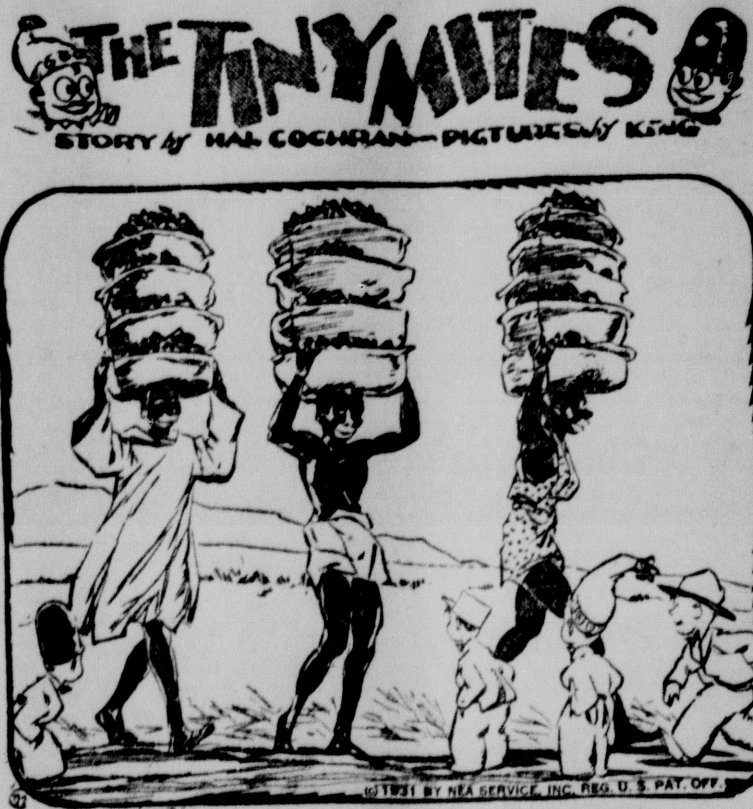

A sport writer says that brains are no asset to an athlete. Maybe this is a sly dig at the number of college men who have gone in for professional wrestling.

Below the bottle tree there stood some houses. "My, but they look good," said Scouty. "Little cabins always quite appealed to me. If folks who own them could be spied, I'd ask them, can we look inside. How any one is furnished is what I would like to see."

The Travel Man said, "We'll find out just what these shacks are all about. I'll rap upon the door of one. Perhaps someone is home. If sights are what we're going to see, we'll be as bold as bold can be. I've found you never get far if you're bashful when you roam."

He promptly rapped upon a door and then, in 'bout a minute more, a native swung it open with a friendly "howdy do." The Tines answered, "Oh, we're great. Wee Cowdy didn't hesitate to say, 'We'd like to look around.' The man said, 'Walk right through.'"

So, as the door opened wide, the Tinymites all walked inside. And there, they very shortly found a big surprise in store. There were no pictures on the wall. There were no chairs. Nope, not at all. The natives sat and also slept upon a rug-spread floor.

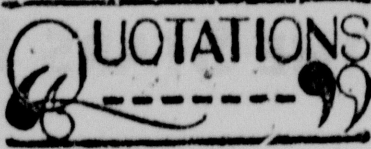

"I'm disappointed," Scouty said. "Why, they don't even have a bed. I thought these little houses would be, but they're not."

The bunch soon went outside and then hopped into their oxcart again. The oxen strolled on, slowly, 'cause the weather was so hot.

Not very far away they found a group of natives walking 'round with bags of charcoal on their heads. Said Copsy, "What's that for?"

The Travel Man replied, "Why they are paid to do that, day by day. That's what the merchants sell for fuel. They'll soon have quite a store."

(The Tinymites drink from a tree in the next story.)

THE BALTIMORE FIRE

On Feb. 7, 1904, a fire wiped out the business center of Baltimore, Maryland, causing a loss estimated at $125,000,000.

The fire burned 30 hours and spread over territory bounded by Fayette, Charles, Baltimore, Liberty and Lombard streets, the water front and Jones Falls.

Within three years the burned area was completely rehabilitated. The fire has since been considered a blessing in disguise because of the spirit of progress which it awakened.

The diversification of manufactures, the growth of commerce, extension of trade, increase in population, the influx of foreign elements, the rise of economic standards, the development of civic consciousness have been essential elements in the recent history of Baltimore.

home products and home labor in all purchases on a basis of competitive price, quality and service. W. W. Knorr, publisher of the Phoenix, Arizona, Gazette, introduced me to P. G. Spilsbury, president of the Arizona Industrial Congress, which organization handles the movement. When interviewed, Mr. Spilsbury said:

"The movement was initiated nine years ago by the Arizona Industrial Congress, which acts as a clearing house for all organizations, industries and sections of the state in cooperation and coordination of effort along development lines, and is conducted by Chambers of Commerce, Women's Clubs and civic bodies in the interests of building up local business and industry."

"The general movement falls into two distinct phases—a 'Trade At Home' campaign, urging the public to give local merchants, business men, professional men and workmen every legitimate preference in day-to-day expenditures, and a 'Use Arizona Products' campaign urging that every legitimate preference likewise be given state farmers, producers, manufacturers and distributors in supplying open markets."

"One of our greatest activities in sponsoring the movement is to encourage producers, manufacturers and retail business to sell themselves to the public by newspaper advertising, displays, demonstrations, etc., to show that they not only can but do compete with outside firms and outside products in price and quality and excel them in service."

"Once a year most communities in the state conduct a special 'Trade At Home Week' educational campaign, bringing out the benefits of the Buy at Home policy to the community. We hold at the same time a statewide 'Buyers and Sellers Conference' of industrial purchasing agents, retail store buyers, manufacturers, distributors and producers' representatives to discuss how they can cooperate in furthering the 'Use Arizona Products-Buy in Arizona' principle."

"On the basis of actual reports, we estimate the 'Trade At Home-Use Arizona Products' movement has kept in Arizona channels an average of $20,000,000 worth of business annually that formerly went outside the state."

cent and 4.99 per cent on the investment.

If the government actually guaranteed the railroads a 5 3-4 per cent return, it would owe them several billion dollars for deficient earnings in the last ten years. There being no such guarantee, the railroads have no claim against the government for the deficiency and simply have to make the best of it. In view of these facts, I believe it will be agreed that farmers have little reason to envy the railroads on the score of guaranteed earnings.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN

CORRECTS BYERHOF

Editor:—I desire to offer a correction in regard to a statement made in the letter from W. J. Byerhoff that was published in the Dixon Evening Telegraph of January 31. This statement was as follows: 'Railroad investments are protected by governmental guarantees of 5 1-2 per cent.'

Contrary thereto, the railroads have no governmental nor any other guarantee of a fixed return on their investment. The law under which the railroads were returned to their owners in 1920 provided that the Interstate Commerce Commission should adjust rates so as to enable the railroads to earn a fair return (later and now set at 5 3-4 per cent) on the value of their railway facilities. However, there has never been any provision for making up the shortage if railway earnings fell below this level, as has been the case in every year since the law was enacted. Last year, for instance, railway earnings were at the rate of less than 3 1-2 per cent on the investment, and in other years since 1920 they have fluctuated between 2.87 per cent and 4.99 per cent on the investment.

If the government actually guaranteed the railroads a 5 3-4 per cent return, it would owe them several billion dollars for deficient earnings in the last ten years. There being no such guarantee, the railroads have no claim against the government for the deficiency and simply have to make the best of it. In view of these facts, I believe it will be agreed that farmers have little reason to envy the railroads on the score of guaranteed earnings.

HOOVER LEARNS OF REACTION TO HIS POSITIONS

The Party Leaders Confer With President On Party Interests

By PAUL R. MALLON
United Press Staff Correspondent
Washington, Feb. 7.—(UP)—The reaction of the country to President Hoover's recently expressed stand on prohibition and food relief appropriations has been brought to him at the White House during the week by Republican National committee leaders from various sections.

While most of the assembling party chiefs are known as strong Hoover men and their reports are not accepted as impartial, they have expressed to the President the opinion that he has won considerable support in many localities by his expressions.

The visiting party leaders profess optimism over the political outlook for next year's presidential election. Few of them have suggested any modification or amplification of Mr. Hoover's stand. They proclaim a willingness to go into the campaign on the issues as they stand, meanwhile hoping for rain in the drought regions and a greater financial confidence among the people.

Among themselves the party chiefs are discussing reorganization of the National Committee set up for 1932. They are concerned particularly with the desire of Chairman Fess to retire as soon as practicable, and the confusion in the committee caused by the controversy over the private campaign which Robert Lucas, the committee's executive director, undertook against Senator Norris, Rep., Neb.

The party leaders were unanimously of the opinion, it is reliably reported, that no change should be made until after Congress adjourns March 4. Among these particular leaders, there was no demand for the retirement of Lucas, although there was a suggestion from some that the exposure of his private fight against Norris had made it impossible for him to succeed Fess.

It was indicated also that Lucas' part in the presidential campaign might be curtailed for fear of embarrassing the committee in western states where Norris and friends of the late Senator LaFollette are popular. The financial condition of the committee also was taken up informally, it is learned. Joseph R. Nutt, treasurer, reported that money is coming in slowly, and the committee is in better financial condition now than six months ago.

Among those who have called at the White House and have taken part in the general and informal discussion are: Chairman Fess; Treasurer Nutt; James Francis Burke, committee counsel; Executive Director Lucas; Earl S. Kinsley, Vermont; Clarence Hamlin, Colorado; Daniel Pomeroy, Ohio; Dr. E. B. Clements, Missouri; Charles D. Hiles, New York; and J. Henry Korabach, Connecticut.

Dance 500 Hours Without Rest

NEA Chicago Bureau
Still dancing—if you can call it that—after 1343 hours, Mike Gouvas and Ann Gerry presented this pleasing spectacle when a photographer invaded the floor of the White City dance hall in Chicago to look them over. The last 500 hours of their dance, they say, have been without any rest periods at all.

AMBOY NEWS

AMBOY—At the regular meeting of the council Tuesday evening, Paul Rielly was appointed night watchman. Mr. Rielly will take up his duties Sunday night. At the meeting it was also agreed to have the band stand, which is rotting away with the age and the old watering trough removed from the corner of South East Ave. and Main Street. The O. E. S. Minstrel was presented to a full house Tuesday evening.

Everyone taking part in the entertainment acted like veterans of the stage. It was apparent from the applause that the audience was well pleased. Mattie Hammond spent Wednesday in Chicago buying spring stock for her hat shop.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Clayton are the parents of a daughter, born Monday. The little Miss has been named Barbara June. Clarence Gewekie is visiting at the home of his sister in Lincoln, Ill. The forum met at the W. R. C. hall. Dr. Hickens of Chicago was the speaker of the evening, the subject of his talk was "Was Lincoln Great." Judging from the attendance at this meeting the Forum is constantly growing in popularity.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hicks of De Kalb spent Wednesday visiting relatives here. Those from out of town who were here to attend the funeral of Mrs. Katherine Keho Tuesday were: Mrs. P. J. Keho and son Loy of Kansas City, Kan.; Mr. and Mrs. Amel Henry of Dixon, Mary Clinton of Ohio, John Rooney, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rooney, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis O'Toole Mrs. Catherine O'Toole and son William and daughter, La Vern and Jean, Vincent Butic, Dr. Charles Weigle, Mrs. James Collins and Emma and Catherine Fenton, all of Chicago.

The dance at St. Patrick's hall Wednesday evening was well attended by a jolly crowd of young people. The high school basketball team will be idle over the week-end on account of the operetta. John Buckley was a business caller in Dixon Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. George Swanberger are the proud parents of a new daughter, born Thursday. The afternoon unit of the Lee County Home Bureau will meet Friday Feb. 13 with Mrs. Albert Antoine for a scramble dinner at noon.

E. W. Ourant was unable to be at the drug store a few days this week on account of illness. The fire department made a run to the McMahon Friday afternoon, where they succeeded in putting out a blaze before it had did any serious damage. Mrs. Elsie Trumble of Dixon was here on business Thursday.

TWO WIN SCHOLARSHIP

New Haven, Conn. (UP)—So closely matched were A. T. Squire of New Haven and J. H. Whittlesey of Redding, graduates of the Yale school of Architecture, that for the first time the trustees of the scholarship of the American School at Athens awarded it to two students instead of one. The two will spend a year at Angora, Corinth, aiding in the excavation of a Roman forum under which lies the remains of an earlier Grecian civilization.

The Eternity of God

REV. JAMES FRANKLIN YOUNG,
Pastor First Presbyterian Church

Psalm 90: 1-2.

"Lord thou hast been our dwelling place in all generations. Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever thou hadst formed the earth and the world, even from everlasting to everlasting thou art God." There is nought else more important, that one can learn, than the two great truths laid bare here. Thinking of these in the reverse order, there is, first, the Eternity of God. "From everlasting to everlasting thou art God." So much that we see and know changes day by day. Everything on the earth had a beginning and all things end but God is eternal. Formerly when the Archbishop of Canterbury left the Cathedral after his consecration, the English crowds were wont to shout after him, 'Remember eternity," "Remember eternity." It was a word of warning but of comfort as well. We must do our best for some time somewhere we will meet again what we do. It is said of old Christmas Evans, the great Welsh preacher, that he once began a sermon in the open fields where thousands of people had gathered, by repeating the word "Eternity" over and over again for thirty times. The effect was electric. Men looked at each other with faces whitened by fear. Women sobbed and prayed, and hundreds cried to God for mercy.

The second truth is this, that we who are of a few days only may find our dwelling in Him and then shall it be ours to abide under the shadow of the Almighty.

By ROBERT KENNEDY
The Dixon squad started out last night with high hopes of giving Sterling at least a run for their money if not beating them; but they were soon doomed to disappointment, for the final score in the heavyweight game was 12-27. Hasseburg was high point man for Dixon with 8 points, two free throws and three baskets. Lebre made 3 free throws and Hilliker made 15 of the 27 points. If his points were not made then the score would have been a tie, but such was not the case. Once last evening it looked as though they were going to bring down that Sterling lead to a more reasonable figure but this streak of luck did not last for long. The "Heavies" for the first lost 4-23, the only scores made for Dixon were by Henry and Bales. It seems that the Dixon teams just cannot get started.

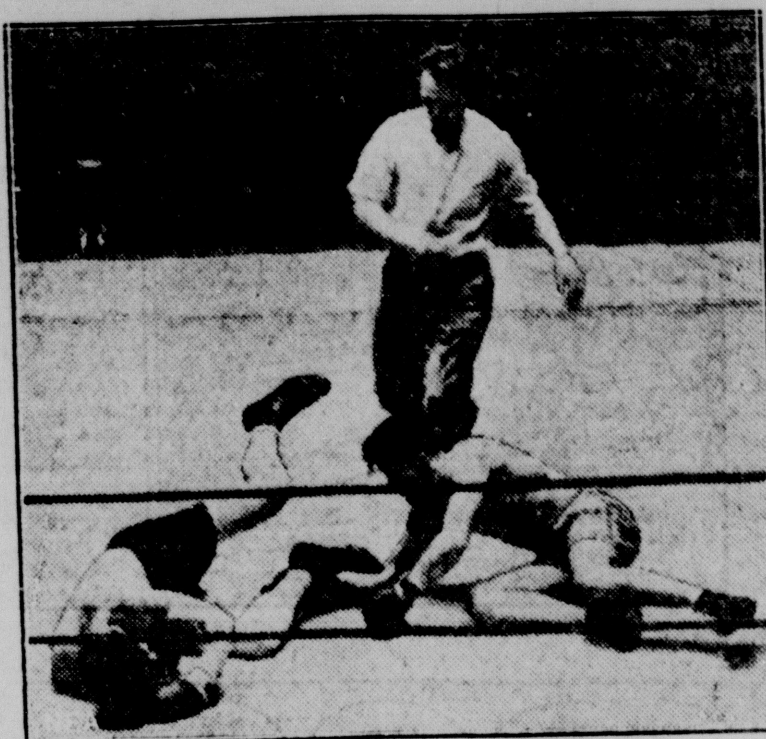

First Half
Hasseburg took the tip-off away from Schumeman and Lebre recovered the ball dribbling back to safe territory. To start the attack Hilliker made a long shot, but it fell short. Hendricks and Schumeman retaliated by each sinking a field goal. Hendricks took time out after two minutes and thirty seconds of the quarter were gone. Carlson fouled Taylor and the resulting free throw was not made. Hasseburg was called for hacking Schumeman and again they lost the extra point. Hendricks sank another field goal. Schumeman sank another field goal. Taylor fouled Lebre and made the extra point. Hasseburg was called for fouling Schumeman again and this time the point was made. With an under-the-basket shot Hasseburg sank the first field goal for Dixon. Moore hacking Lebre while he was shooting for the basket made them both. Plowman was called for hacking Hendricks and two free throws were made. Taylor made another field goal. Schumeman was given a free throw for holding by Hasseburg but he missed it. The half closed with the score 5-13.

Last Half
When the second half started Dixon began to give Sterling some stiff opposition. The first foul of the half down into Sterling's territory and kept it there for three shots at the basket, but none of them were any good. Hilliker was fouled by Moore and then made the extra point. Moore came back by making a field goal. Schumeman shoved Hasseburg and he sank the free throw, making the score 7-15. On the next play Hasseburg dribbled into the basket and dropped the ball through the hoop; score 9-15. Hendricks made two baskets in a row and Dixon called time out. Hendricks went in for Hilliker. Schumeman again fouled Hasseburg; this was his fourth personal so he was forced to leave the game. Hasseburg made his extra point and Sterling sent Bley in for Schumeman. Worley was called for holding Terhune. He made the point and the ball came back to center. Hendricks made another basket as the quarter ended, 19-22. Powell replaced Taylor at forward. Hasseburg sank another basket making the last Dixon score of the game. Hendricks made the point when fouled by Worley. Powell hacked Carlson but he missed the free throw. Hasseburg was called for fouling Bley, the free throw was not made but Hasseburg had four fouls against him so Hilliker came in for him. Hendricks made two more points when Hilliker fouled him. Baer went in for Hendricks. Hall for Terhune and Woodyatt for Moore. Powell made a field goal. The ball came to center. The tip off gave the ball to Dixon and some fast playing that almost took Sterling off their feet followed. There was only 15 seconds left but Dixon came close to scoring several times in those few seconds. The final score was 12-27.

Officials—Clark and Gillespie.
Between the halves of the heavyweight game the Girls Athletic Association dressed in many colored costumes and masked, gave a clog dance which the audience enjoyed very much.

Lightweight Game
The less said about the lightweight game the better, for they so outweighed our team that Dixon did not have a chance. Our second team consisted of Sophomores and Freshmen and Sterling's players were so much taller that they could just

One Punch—Two Knockdowns!

There was plenty of spirited fighting when more than a hundred boxers began a quest for New York state amateur ring titles. Here's a scene of unusual action as Willard Weiss (right) of Buffalo, in knocking down Barney Smith of New York in the third round of their bout at New York's Madison Square Garden, put so much force into his punch that he followed his opponent to the canvas. Proceeds of the tournament went to an American Legion welfare fund for disabled veterans.

toss the ball over the others' heads. Of course this was not the fault of the Dixon team, because they were not taller, but just the same they played a hard fought game. Bales and Henry made the only scores for Dixon. Bales made a free-throw and Henry made a basket and a free-throw. The final score was 4-23.

There will be another game tonight at the High School Gymnasium. The Savannah team will furnish the opposition and it will be their first game with Dixon in basketball. No one seems to know much about the visitors' team, but if it compares at all to its football team, the locals should send them home defeated. The line-up for this game will probably be the same as that for last night's game.

Dog Caused Fatal Accident To Team

Houston, Mo., Feb. 7.—(UP)—A dog darted in front of an automobile in which six high school basketball players were en route to a game last night, upset the car and caused the death of one of the boys.

The students were members of the Cabool, Mo. school team and were coming here to play the local school, Frank McClellan, 18, was killed instantly. Ray Bley was injured seriously. The other four suffered cuts and bruises.

A fair sized crowd of local basketball fans turned out last evening to witness the appearance of the House of David basketball team playing against a five composed of the pick of Dixon cage stars. The bewhiskered cagers arrived in Dixon from Keokuk, Iowa, a short time before the game, tired after a long drive but when they started to play basketball all signs of fatigue had vanished. The Benton Harborites run up a score of 25 to 14 in the first half and during the remainder of the evening they kept the locals from overcoming their lead and the contest closed with the count standing 29 to 21 in favor of the visitors.

The teams lined up as follows:—House of David—Petroske, Van, Willis, f; Farrell, c; Hyland, Williams, g.

Dixon Moose—Johnson, Pitney, Lebre, f; Mueller, Joyce, c; Whitcombe, Bremer, Haley, i. Six g.

There were some surprises sprung during the evening in the Industrial league series which is now drawing to a close. The I. N. U. Co. team suffered a setback at the hands of the Merchants by a score of 14 to 8.

The Utilities crew did not appear to be able to organize their forces and style of play and their opponents received 12 free throws in the first quarter.

The teams lined up as follows:—Merchants—Pontius, f; Cortright, i; Roundy, Vorhis, c; Miller, Pitney, Roundy, g.

Cabs Are Winners
The American Cab & Body company five outplayed the Dixon Battery Shop team in another upset of the evening and won easily by a score of 13 to 8. The long floor shots of Ben Bremer were features of this, the second game of the league schedule. Underwood was also responsible for two field goals via the long distance route. Captain Jones led the Battery Shop with a field basket and three foul tosses. The line-up:—

American Cab & Body Co.—Scott, Underwood, f; Wilson, c; Bremer, Cowley, g.

Dixon Battery Shop—Jones, Whitcombe, f; Vaughan, c; Wickey, Haley, f.

Summary—Field goals, Scott, Underwood, Bremer 2, Jones, Whitcombe. Foul throws, Scott 2, Bremer, Jones 3, Vaughan. Officials—Freed, referee, Krug umpire.

Reynolds Come Back
The Reynolds Wire company, for weeks leaders of the league and without a loss, who have suffered recent defeats, experienced some difficulty in getting started in the game, the first of the series last evening, but managed to win from the State Hospital crew. The score stood a tie at the close of the first half with four points apiece. In the second half the wire weavers were more successful and soon ran up a count of 14 to their opponents 10. Reynolds occupied the chief scoring position with four field baskets to his credit. The line-up:—

Reynolds Wire Co.—Johnson, O. Six, f; Hey, Joyce, c; M. Six, Hunt, g.

Al Simons And His Fiancee Disagree

Philadelphia, Feb. 7.—(AP)—The engagement of Al Simons, hard-nitting outfielder of the world champion Philadelphia Athletics, to Miss Dorothy Kuhn of Jenkintown, Pa., has been broken "by mutual consent."

In making this announcement, John F. Kuhn, the young woman's father, said he did so with "great regret," that he and Mrs. Kuhn regarded Al "highly," and that he would always be welcome at their home.

"Dorothy and Al have decided not to marry, but to become just friends," Mr. Kuhn said. "That's their business, however. Al will always be welcome at our home. Both my wife and myself regard him highly and nothing will ever alter our friendship for him."

Ruth Goes South To Get Into Condition

New York, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Babe Ruth's 37th birthday today coincided with his departure on a steamer for Florida where he will get in shape for his 18th season in the American League.

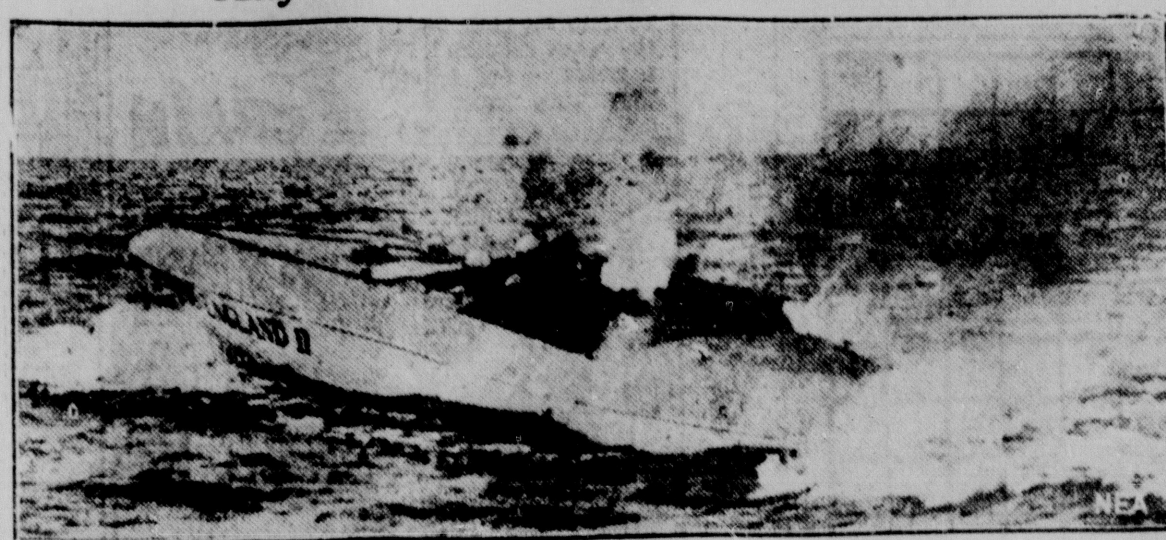

The great home run hitter of the New York Yankees had as sailing companions his wife and two daughters, Dorothy and Julia. Ruth's immediate objective was Jacksonville and its golf courses. Then he planned to move to St. Petersburg for some more golf before the Yankees begin training here March 1.

Ruth has shaded his weight to 222 pounds, only six above his best playing poundage.

Kaye Don's 107-Mile-an-Hour Run

Undaunted by the grim fate which overtook Sir Henry Segrave in the speedboat Miss England II, Kaye Don, English speed pilot, is pictured above as he drove the rebuilt craft to an unofficial world's record of 107 miles an hour in the choppy waters off Belfast, Ireland. Sir Henry was drowned when the boat sank in Lake Windermere, England, a year ago. Don will take the speedster to Buenos Aires for an official try at the record and later will challenge Gar Wood of America for the international trophy in the August contests at Detroit.

SPEED KING TO RETURN TO HIS HOME NEXT WEEK

Campbell Set Another Speed Record In Small Auto

By TED GILL

Daytona Beach, Fla., Feb. 7.—(AP)—Having hung up two new world's automobile speed records in two days, Captain Malcolm Campbell, intrepid British race car driver, today began making preparations for his return trip to England.

He plans to leave about the middle of next week, stopping off for a day in Washington before proceeding to New York, where he will board a liner for Southampton.

Although not satisfied with his world's land speed record of 245.733 miles an hour, established here Thursday in his giant Bluebird racing car, Campbell said he would not make any more straightway trials until some one bettered his mark.

As a climax to his racing in this country, Campbell went out yesterday in a tiny four-cylinder machine and established a new record of 94.031 miles an hour for automobiles with a piston displacement of less than 45 cubic inches. The previous record was 87.76, established in France several years ago.

Campbell said he was firmly convinced automobile speed never would equal that of airplanes. The present airplane record is 358 miles an hour, which also is held by England.

Two "Naturals" On Big Ten Schedule

Chicago, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Two natural rival contests tonight will finish up the least week of the Big Ten basketball season.

At Evanston, Northwestern's league leaders will entertain Chicago's in-and-out Maroons, with every expectation of scoring their fifth consecutive triumph of the campaign. Chicago, however, will be stronger than in its last two engagements, Sid Yates, star forward, having returned to the lineup after a siege of illness.

Purdue and Indiana will meet in their first encounter of the season at Bloomington. The Boilermakers, defending champions, have demonstrated real power, following a weak start, but will find the third place Hoosiers at their best on the home floor.

Hansen Advised To Quit By Manager
Chicago, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Joe Woodman, manager of Knute Hansen, the melancholy Dane heavyweight from Racine, Wis., has advised his pugilist to quit the ring forever.

After the Illinois State Athletic Commission indefinitely suspended Hansen yesterday for his questionable fight against Jose Santa, huge Portuguese, in the Chicago Stadium last Wednesday night, Woodman gave up.

"Hansen was right up among the topnotchers for eight years," Woodman said. "Tex Rickard used him often in New York. I think he did his best against Santa, but he can't fight a lick anymore, and he should quit forever."

Hansen fell to the canvas four times Wednesday night, the last time apparently without being hit. The bout was declared "no contest," and both fighters lost their purses after the Commission investigated.

LOUGHRAN HAD LEFT WORKING: BAER DEFEATED

Tommy Made California Heavyweight Look Foolish

By HERBERT W. BARKER

New York, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Thanks to the same deadly left hand that made him king of all the light heavyweights, Tommy Loughran, Philadelphia dancing master, had stepped back into the heavyweight picture today.

The biggest crowd of the indoor fist season—12,000 persons—saw the Philadelphia fan his way to a ridiculously easy ten round decision over Max Baer, willing but clumsy California youngster, in Madison Square Garden last night.

The match was more than faintly reminiscent of Loughran's masterful performance against Jimmy Braddock in defense of his light heavyweight crown here 18 months ago.

Stepping around with all his old-time speed, Loughran stabbed jab off balance with a stinging left jab over right uppercuts when opportunity presented itself and won the unanimous decision of the two judges and Referee Jack Dempsey.

Baer Laughed at Self
The Associated Press, score gave Loughran all ten of the rounds. So beautiful a boxing masterpiece did the Philadelphia turn in that Baer himself was forced to laugh at his own futile efforts to catch Tommy long enough to rip home a solid belt.

Only twice was Baer dangerous and both times it was Tommy's own carelessness that gave the Californian the chance he wanted.

The bout not only re-established Loughran among the heavyweight contenders with a possible return bout with Jack Sharkey looming ahead, but ended the jinx that has spoiled Dempsey's work as a referee here. Previously the old Manassa Mauler had officiated at the Scott-Van Pelt bout which ended when Scott took a tap on the thigh and went down crying "foul" and at the recent match between Baer and Tom Heeney. Baer won that one on a knockout when Heeney was pushed through the ropes and the time-keeper scrambled his count.

Baer, weighing 200½ pounds, had a 17½ pound edge on Loughran.

Levinsky's Ruse Resulted In Win

Boston, Feb. 7.—(UP)—Two rounds and 20 seconds was all that King Levinsky, Chicago heavyweight, required to knock out Jack Gagnon, local heavyweight, here last night. A blistering right to the chin brought to a sudden end their scheduled ten round bout.

After a couple of tame rounds, Levinsky came out in the third and opened up. He stepped in as if to daughter's engagement to Al Simons.

Washington, Feb. 7.—(UP)—Two years as commissioner of public safety in Philadelphia gave Maj. Gen.

Smedley Butler an opportunity to see the seamy side of prohibition.

He saw his old friend, Colonel Alexander

Williams, incur courtmartial

because of liquor, and soon thereafter

after end a brilliant career by running his automobile into San Francisco Bay.

What does he think of prohibition?

He made a speech at Oakland, Calif.,

in 1927, and mentioned the "silly Volstead law." Anti-prohibitionists began to cheer.

But Butler telegraphed in reply to an inquiry from then Rep. William D. Upshaw, Dem., Ga., a terse summary of what he had said:

"No half-way upholding of national dignity as in case of silly Volstead act which has been greatest piece of class legislation ever enacted in this country; allows rich to have liquor when the poor cannot get it. Had thought law written for everybody,

but while a Philadelphia policeman

I discovered my mistake. I am emphatically in favor of prohibition and have not said or even intimated anything to the contrary; but I do consider toothless enforcement laws silly in the extreme. Law to be obeyed must be respected; to be respected the hand of the law must be feared, and the hand of the law will be feared only when mandatory, adequate, and severe penalties attach to violations." Josephus

Daniels, of Raleigh, N. C.

prominent dry Democrat who as Secretary of the Navy abolished the wine ration in the service once urged that Butler be placed in charge of federal prohibition enforcement. Senator R. B. Howell, Repn., Neb., once proposed that Butler undertake to dry up Washington, which Howell has described as a "bootleggers' paradise." Governor Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania, a dry leader, supported Butler actively throughout his Philadelphia police experience and sought to have his leave extended that he might not go.

"Practicing Prohibitionist"

Butler describes himself as a practicing prohibitionist.

"I am a prohibitionist, believe in it, practice it, but will not proselytize for the cause," he said after he returned to the Marines. "I am not a prohibition propagandist nor a professional reformer, uplifter nor purist."

In my time I have been a drinking man—not a 'booze hound', but a moderate drinker who really could take it or leave it alone. My work in Philadelphia made me a prohibitionist."

His experience in Philadelphia convinced him it was not prohibition but weak character that caused grafting officials. He had many disheartening experiences with corrupt enforcement officials who did not break down his conviction that prohibition could be enforced with a stricter law and better officials. If "in other words, no confirmed drunkards will be placed on the benches of our courts, and no bootleggers appointed to positions of importance to the success of enforcement—as was sometimes done in Philadelphia and Pennsylvania."

When Butler returned a second time to command Quantico, the assignment from which he has just been suspended pending court martial, he undertook to dry up the village adjoining the post. He did it by forbidding Marines to enter the town until all the bootleggers were driven out.

Barber shops, drug stores, movies and shops in the village were closed and business men became so aroused that the village officials were compelled to undertake a series of raids and clean up the settlement.

The locals went in expecting a hard game but when the first half ended found they were ahead 15-3.

Pastoral Message—

The youth of our land are facing the land of the unattained. Before them lies the unconquered things. Their dreams and visions can best be realized as they give their best to the Christ who loved them. To follow with Christ adds lustre to life and gives to every part of human experience a profound meaning. This little message is to give to the youth our heartiest and best support. We have faith in them and believe with the proper guidance they will become the channels of blessings tomorrow that will help and guide the destiny of the tomorrow of the unattained.

FIND DEATHS IN FOG DUE TO NATURAL CAUSES

BY DR. MORRIS FISHEIN

Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

Newspapers have a strange fashion of arousing the public interest to fever pitch concerning incidents reported from different parts of the world and then seeming to forget altogether the fact that the public remembers the incidents and wonders what the outcome may be.

From time to time new cures are reported for all sorts of diseases, then nothing further is said in the newspaper to indicate that careful medical trial has caused complete dissipation of hope for successful results from these cures.

The most recent sensation to arouse world interest was the so-called fog that spread in Belgium and caused 64 deaths. Experts who were consulted were convinced that it was not possible for any poison gas or any products from any factory to affect people in such a manner as to bring about deaths of the nature of those reported.

So terrible was the scare that health officers in various American cities were called to advise as to proper conduct in a fog and the inhabitants of villages in the region affected barricaded themselves in their homes and stuffed the chinks in the windows and doors with rags.

The Ministry of Health of London has been notified by several health authorities that the deaths were not due to any communicable disease; neither were they due to any poison gas. The 64 deaths which occurred affected old people primarily. There were five deaths in one village, two of them in people who had been long sufferers from heart disease, one from tuberculosis, one from asthma and one from obesity.

Apparently the deaths were due to nothing else but a sudden severe spell of fog and cold. The British authorities point out that the valley of the Meuse at the point at which to 16, was announced and it is hoped that as many as possible from this community will attend this show. Garden clubs from all over the state will be represented in the exhibits and without doubt the display will be very beautiful.

Japan's Greatest Railway Wreck

This, one of the most striking pictures ever obtained, graphically shows Japan's greatest modern railway disaster, when the engine and five passenger cars of a crack express left the Mukunashibashi bridge near Kashi and plunged into the icy water. Six passengers were killed and more than 100 were injured.

It was decided to renew the Club's subscription to the Illinois Voter, for use by the Civics Department, also to contribute to a fund being raised to erect a memorial to Lorado Taft, Illinois best loved sculptor and artist. It was also decided by a nearly unanimous vote, after considerable favorable discussion, to paying fifty dollars toward the clearing of the indebtedness on the camp ground, on condition that the balance of the amount is subscribed. The interest of the club being largely along the line of community welfare, it was felt that the retaining of the camp ground for a community use, as it has always been, is a project worthy of support. The program was then presented by the Department of Community Service of which Miss Maude Conlon is chairman, the topic being Child Health. A health play entitled, "Full Citizenship in the Land of Health" was given by a group of grade pupils from the school under the direction of their teacher, Miss Pauline Stutsman. This demonstrated their regular health work in the school and was listened to and highly enjoyed by everyone present. Dame Nature and her helpers gave the candidates for membership a thorough test on their knowledge and application of the rules of health and after receiving satisfactory answers, they were joyfully and unreservedly admitted to full citizenship in the land of health. The united thanks of the club members is extended to Miss Stutsman and her pupils for their very delightful contribution to the program.

A most interesting letter to the club, written by Miss Maude Conlon, concerning the health work being done among the grade pupils in the Rochelle schools was read by Mrs. Sunday. Also a few health posters were shown, representing some of Miss Conlon's fifth graders' work along this line. The program demonstrated very plainly that in two schools at least, the subject of health is receiving the attention, which should be given it and which, it is hoped, may become part of every child's training for efficiency and happiness.

The program closed with an interesting sketch of the life of Longfellow, given by Mrs. Hanson.

Men's Club Meeting

A leader in the department of men's work of the Presbyterian church in the person of Rev. Clair Boyd Gahagen of Chicago, will be the speaker at the next men's club meeting, which will be held in the Methodist church, Tuesday evening, Feb. 10th. The refreshment committee is planning a Jiggs dinner. This should be an interesting meeting and all of the men of the community should plan to attend.

Banquet a Success

The tenth Fathers and Sons banquet held Thursday night in the Methodist church was as usual a wonderful success. Two hundred men and boys enjoyed the banquet this year, being two less than the number present last year.

The ladies of the library association arranged the banquet and the serving of it. Ira L. Buck again presided as toast master, he sure has a wonderful knack when it comes to serving in this capacity. C. W. Cream's toast to the ladies was very pleasant. Earl Buck led the singing of the pep songs, while Henry Hick was accompanist at his portable organ. Prof. Fox with his "German Band" always pleases young and old alike, the high school student orchestra also under the leadership of Prof. Fox, played several selections.

L. W. Miller, superintendent of Lee county schools, was the speaker of the evening, and he was wisely chosen, being so close to affairs of school, naturally he knows how to discuss the problems of the boy.

The meeting closed with the singing of "God Be With You Till We Meet Again," and the benediction by Rev. C. D. Wilson.
